OVERVIEW

As a leading British manufacturer of commercial vehicle accessories, Van Guard have tapped into their previous experience in van security by launching the all-new ULTILOCK Hooklock – the first lock of it's kind to attain Gold Standard Sold Secure status.

With van security the fastest growing sector in the van accessory marketplace due to the ever-increasing rise in van break-ins across the UK, it was imperative that Van Guard delivered the ultimate security product for van owners and drivers. Renowned for our experience and reputation for manufacturing high quality van kit, substantial research and development was undertaken to bring as much of the manufacturing process in-house providing us with greater control of the supply chain.

With aftermarket Hooklocks being the most popular and effective aftermarket van security lock in the marketplace, the ULTILOCK Hooklock is the default option to our Trade customers exclusively available to our vast network of installers around the UK.
